Nishan-e-Imtiaz

The Nishan-e-Imtiaz is one of the civil decoration of state. It is awarded for achievements towards world recognition for Pakistan or an outstanding service for the country. However, the award is not limited to citizens of Pakistan and, while it is a civilian award, Nishan, translates as Decoration/Order, is a highly restricted and prestigious award roughly equivalent to Presidential of Medal of Freedom (United States) and Order of the British Empire (United Kingdom), and is the first category award of Order of Imtiaz. The other three descending categories are Hilal-e-Imtiaz, Sitara-e-Imtiaz and Tamgah-e-Imtiaz. Usually, it is regarded as the highest award one can achieve in Pakistan.

The Award was established on March 19, 1957, following the proclamation of State of Pakistan as a Parliamentary republic, by the 1956 Constitution. The award is the top decoration in the country, given to a person who has accomplished duty beyond what is assigned to him/her. The person has to show eminence and be outstanding in providing excellent service in a significant field of activity. It means that he/she has to prove that he/she has achieved distinction. The award also awarded Posthumously.

Hilal-i-Imtiaz

The Hilal-i-Imtiaz (Crescent of Excellence), it recognizes individual who have made an “especially meritorious contribution to the security or national interests of Pakistan, world peace or other significant public endeavors”. It is civilian award, and not limited to the citizens of Pakistan.

The honour is restricted to individuals who have made outstanding contribution in their fields that led to international recognition to the State. It is awarded in the fields of literature, art, sports, medicine, and science for civilians. It is announced every year on Independence Day, August 14, and given on Pakistan Day, March 23, by the President of Pakistan.

Parliament committee for Award and Recognition Services for State of Pakistan selects the name of individual and sends their report to the Prime Minister; on his advice, the President makes the award in a ceremony.

Sitara-Imtiaz

The Sitara-i-Imtiaz (Star of Excellence), is the third highest honour and civilian award in the State of Pakistan. It recognizes individuals who have made an “especially meritorious contribution to the security or national interests of Pakistan, world peace, cultural or other significant public endeavors.

Sitara-i-Imtiaz is a highly restricted and prestigious award, only given to those who have done great services to the country. It is one of the most distinguished civil decorations to the civilians who have made outstanding contribution in their respected fields such as literature, arts, sports, medicine, or science, which prompted the recognition of the country on international level. It is given to a person who has accomplished duty beyond what is assigned to him/her. To receive this honor, the individuals are expected to show eminence and be outstanding in providing excellent service in a significant field of activity beyond what they are assigned to.

Tamgha-i-Imtiaz,

Tamgha-i-Imtiaz (Award of Excellence), Awarded by the Sovereign or President of Pakistan, on the advice of the Government. It is a state-organised honour of the state of Pakistan in recognition of outstanding contribution in their respected fields such as literature, arts, sports, medicine, or science, It is the fourth highest decoration given to any civilian in Pakistan based on their achievements.

The award is not limited to the citizens of Pakistan, and can be awarded to foreign citizens who have performed great service to Pakistan.

The President's Award for Pride of Performance

The President's Award for Pride of Performance (Tamga-e-Husn-e-Karkardagi) is one of the special awards conferred by the Government on Pakistani civilians from 1958 in recognition of distinguished meritorious work in the fields of literature, arts, medicine and science. It has no particular official standing in Pakistani civil decoration hierarchy.

The announcement of this award, and other governmentally conferred civil awards, is made once a year on (14 August each year). Then the awards are conferred by the President of Pakistan at a ceremony that takes place on the following (23 March each year).
